

USING COMMAS

Whoever wrote these sentences did not know much about using commas! Rewrite them correctly.

- 1 Milk or lemon, is added to tea.
- 2 We read to mother, then we went to bed.
- 3 The silence is broken creating a disturbance which soon spreads around the whole class.
- 4 Further investigation however proved his theory to be wrong.
- 5 I think you should apologise, you shouldn't have done that.
- 6 The icicles which hang from the eaves in cold weather, may seem insignificant things.
- 7 Dovedale a pretty wooded valley which lies at the bottom of the Pennines must have, at some time, been inhabited by Romans.
- 8 The table was laid with an extraordinary array of good things, my mouth watered in anticipation.
- 9 She introduced him to Miss Smithers their new teacher.
- 10 We went on the Big Dipper, it was terrifying.